PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

B2B SaaS professional with 10+ years in enterprise software. My professional career started through implementation and customer success into post-sales engineering, and I do my best work where technology is hardest for people to use: deployment, adoption, and value realization across a book of accounts, from discovery and proof of concept through renewal and expansion, including AI-agent and MCP workflows run against real customer data. I win technical evaluations against entrenched incumbents and build the case that keeps accounts around.
